

5201 WOODWARD AVENUE, DETROIT, MICHIGAN 48202 PHONE 321-1000

MRS. CLARA S. JONES, Director

ROBERT B. CRONEBERGER, JR., Deputy Director

May 10, 1971

TO THE YOUNG PEOPLE OF TROY:

Congratulations on the opening of your new and beautiful library! You have the prospect before you of a lifetime friendship with books and libraries. The person who reads need never be lonely. Through book travel and reading acquaintance-ship with people of all countries of the globe, early in his life the reader becomes a "citizen of the world," at home on the earth.

Someone has said that he "graduated" from college, but received his education from books. Education in the true sense never ceases, and books can play a very meaningful role in every person's growth and development.

The best I can wish for you is that you will enjoy your library to the fullest!

Sincerely,

Clara S. Jones

Director