

DETROIT PUBLIC LIBRARY

5201 WOODWARD AVENUE, DETROIT, MICHIGAN 48202 PHONE 321-1000

MRS. CLARA S. JONES, Director

ROBERT B. CRONEBERGER, JR., Deputy Director

May 7, 1971

Mrs. Marguerite A. Hart
Young People's Librarian
Troy Public Library
5044 Rochester Road
Troy, Michigan 48084

To the Young People of Troy:

My sincerest congratulations to all the young people of Troy on your new library.

Libraries, as you know, are places of learning - and enjoyment. They are there for you for school assignments, for current reading, for pleasure reading. They can open up new worlds, as well as bring history alive again. They can acquaint you with people of the past and present. They can answer a practical question, as well as instill a dream or inspire a hope.

Through a variety of programs - be it a film-discussion program on drugs, or a poetry workshop, or a rock festival - the library can reach out to you and your friends.

It is a place to come to whenever you have a question that needs answering or for your general quest for a "good book." It is your library - get to know it and make good use of it throughout your lifetime.

Sincerely,

Olga N. Pobutsky
Coordinator
Young Adult Service

ONP:ms