Dearest children:

Mrs. Hart, your librarian has written to me telling me about your wonderful new library. You cannot possibly know all the wonderful things to be found on the shelves of this library and I hope that each of you will devote a great deal of time to the wonderful art of reading. When I was a young girl I used to try to read a book each day (I still do, but sometimes I get a bit behind because of my working schedule) - there is no end to what can be learned from the printed word - all about people, places, history and all that has gone into making up this wonderful world of ours.

Enjoy yourselves - make friends with your books and absorb all the wonderful goodies to be found between the covers.

God Bless you always and perhaps someday I will have the pleasure of visiting you and your new library.

All love,

Pearl Bailey
